At play in Wyoming's Golf Capital with deer, antelope and 81 holes of world-class golf

Nestled in the arms of the Big Horn Mountains lies Wyoming's Golf Capital, Sheridan - The West at its Best! Rich in western history, this fine and friendly locale lies central to four of the state's finest golf courses -- all within a 35 mile radius of this warm and bustling community.

- Tee off at The Powder Horn, offering a 27-hole championship course which is rated in GolfWeek's top 100.
- The Kendrick Golf Course, established in 1935, a course of premiere beauty, located 3 miles out of town, is flanked on the west by the Big Horn Mountains.
- Located within the city limits, Sheridan Country Club, offers nine greens with separate tee boxes for 18 hole play.
- Located in Johnson County just miles down the road is the Buffalo Golf Club.

Besides fantastic and reasonably-priced golf, historic Sheridan provides ample entertainment. . .
