Howdy %%FIRST:Partner%%

Each year Don King Days is considered by over a thousand spectators to be the grand finale of summer fun! This year marks the 21st annual Don King Days at the Big Horn Equestrian Center, Sunday and Monday of Labor Day Weekend, September 6 & 7, 2009.

Events feature classic equine events like polo, steer roping, bronc riding and wild cow milking, beginning both days at 11 a.m. The Big Horn Equestrian Center's few fences and big fields put the crowd right in the middle of all the action. Sunday features polo, the first rounds of the Wyoming Steer Roping Finals and wild cow milking. Taking place on Monday are polo, steer roping and the matched bronc riding.

Each day, following the events "on the grass", there will be live music at the clubhouse. Additional information regarding performers is to be announced.
